

Title: New Live Ministry Series (LMS) Session -- Renae: Healing Helps Parenting

August 1, 2009

Greetings all,

Just wanted to send a quick note to let you know that a new Live Ministry Series (LMS) session, Renae: Healing Helps Parenting, is now available.

Those who attended the June 2008 THRIVE conference in Springfield may remember one of the condensed sessions about a woman who was concerned about her angry outbursts towards her young son, and then went back to childhood memories where her father responded to her in the same way she was now responding to her son. You may also remember that she had beautiful, poignant interactions with Jesus in the context of these childhood memories, and that her angry outbursts decreased dramatically following the session (and eventually resolved completely). This is the full session from which the segments shown at the THRIVE conference were taken. A pdf version of the written commentary is attached, and this can also be downloaded from our website <https://www.immanuelapproach.com/products-page/>.

For those who have been asking us for more resources regarding the Immanuel approach to emotional healing, this session provides an excellent example (including the initial steps of positive memory recall, deliberate appreciation, and refreshed connection with the Lord).

Also, for those who especially like the condensed versions, the next set of condensed sessions (including the condensed version of the session with Renae) should be completed in the next couple months. We will let you know as soon as they are available.

Blessings,

Dr. Lehman/Karl

Want to support the Lehman's Immanuel Approach work? Click here for more information: <https://www.immanuelapproach.com/supporting-lehmans-immanuel-approach-work/>