

Title: Short Testimony

December 13, 2011

Greetings all,

Just a quick note to share some encouragement. It's not a full blown Immanuel story (I'll eventually explain more regarding what I consider a full blown, official Immanuel story), but it is certainly an encouraging testimony.

“What an amazing privilege to have my eyes opened up to see the living Jesus through Immanuel Prayer. He is alive and always with me. To see His care and creativity for every detail in my life has been transforming. Seeing Him as He really is has given me peace through troubling times and has helped me to not just cope with life, or to just get by, but to learn to live and feel and experience abundant life. I am learning His true character and because of that, I am learning my identity in Him.”
