

Title: "Immanuel Approach With Syrian Refugees"

December 12, 2016

Greetings all,

Just a quick note to share another encouraging story. I got the following note attached to an order form for a case of books:

"We are just back from training long-term workers in a Middle East country to pray with Syrian refugees using the Immanuel Approach. We trained 25-30 long-term Christian workers who are working with Syrian refugee families. Jesus has appeared to many of the refugees in dreams and visions, and the long-term workers have been doing listening prayer with their network of Syrians who express interest in Jesus. There is great spiritual hunger.

Our training involved modeling and then doing Immanuel prayer with the workers first, and then joining them in "house visits" to pray with refugees. The Syrian families were strategically selected as those who have a hunger to learn about Jesus and were open to prayer. Immanuel prayer was very effective for the long-term workers, many of whom were on the edge of burn-out themselves. In just about every prayer time with the Syrian families, the recipients were able to connect with Jesus and find peace, and in some sessions they experienced Jesus speaking with them to give them His perspective regarding the difficulties they had experienced and/or the difficult situations they were currently in. An amazing time!"

Thought you would enjoy it.

Blessings,

Dr. Lehman/Karl

Want to support the Lehman's Immanuel Approach work? Click here for more information:
<https://www.immanuelapproach.com/supporting-lehmans-immanuel-approach-work/>