

Title: "Beautiful IA With Homeless Woman on Bus"

December 1, 2016

Greetings all,

I thought you might enjoy a fun story that we received in response to our announcement of the book release on Charlotte's Facebook page. This story is from a friend and colleague I have known since I was a kid, and who is currently working in San Francisco.

"Our entire Because Justice Matters women's ministry team took the basic Immanuel Approach training with Patti Velotta a few weeks ago. So, on the way home on the bus Saturday evening, two of our staff sat near a weeping, homeless woman. They approached her. She was distraught, not wanting to face another night in the shelter – she had been assaulted there, and she was exhausted and feeling sick. They walked her gently through Immanuel Prayer. Our beautiful Jesus came and comforted her. She hugged them when she reached her stop and said, 'I don't know what you just did, but I feel SO much better!'"

I love to hear these stories about how people are experiencing the living presence of Jesus.

Blessings,

Dr. Lehman/Karl

Want to support the Lehman's Immanuel Approach work? Click here for more information:
<https://www.immanuelapproach.com/supporting-lehmans-immanuel-approach-work/>