Title: "New Basic-Training Videos Now Available as Online Course!!!"

June 20, 2022

Good news! Good news! Good news!!!

Many of you have been asking for, pleading for, and (patiently?) waiting for the new Immanuel Approach basic training video series to be available as a digital download option. And the good news is that this is now finally available (after lots of drama). With purchase of the online course, you will be able to stream the content for a limited period of time (at least several months, and probably longer, but the final parameters are yet to be determined), to optimize convenience for viewing on mobile devices. And at any point during your streaming access window, you can also download the content so that you will have permanent access to the material.

*So those of you who no longer own DVD players can now view the new basic training video series! Yeah!

*And those of you in other countries can now easily access this material, without having to wait for weeks (or months) for the DVD set to arrive, and without having to pay horrific shipping costs. Hooray!!!

The new basic training series can be purchased, and then streamed and/or downloaded, from the following link: https://immanuelapproach.pathwright.com/library/immanuel-approach-basic-training-183604/register/424462/

Blessings,

Dr. Lehman/Karl